Window choice changes numerical conditioning and residual delay information

375 fitted directions; each Jacobian column is normalized before projection.
$a^{(1:3)}$, $b^{(1:3)}$: zero-sum output/input delay coordinates, not individual channels.
Numerical projections do not prove an exact ZOH non-identifiability identity.